Going overboard is an easy mistake to make, but you'll look your best if you keep your makeup fresh and focused on your eyes or your lips, never both. You can opt for luscious lips or for a more dramatic look for your eyes, but do both and you'll not only look like you're trying too hard, but you also increase the risk of having runny makeup.

Prom Makeup How to: Get a Flawless Complexion

The best trick to keep your skin looking gorgeous and natural on prom night is using a tinted moisturizer or primer and a light foundation. You can also use foundation primer for perfect coverage that won't cake up when you sweat. Remember to use only oil-free products, which is probably the most important tip in any prom makeup how to. Choose water-proof mascara and eyeliner if you want to keep your look fresh for the entire night.

How to Do Prom Makeup: Eyes

If you go for bold red lips, you'll have to be more subtle for the eyes. Getting a more dramatic look for your eyes, like the smokey eye means you should keep your lips nude, with a good gloss. Whether you choose the smoky eye look, using two or three shades of eye shadow that need to be blended well, or a simpler look with dark-rimmed eyes, make sure you don't use too much blush on your cheeks: just enough to highlight them is the best option.

Prom Makeup: Touch Ups on the Go

Touch ups can become a very important part of makeup for prom, even if you're using all the right products. Make sure your quick prom makeup kit in your purse includes blotting papers, gloss or lipstick, a small tube of hairspray and even powder in case you need a bigger touch up, right before having your picture taken. A water vaporizer can also help, refreshing your makeup the right way.
