

Radhika Apte in Rinku Sobti for Navratri celebrations in Pune

Radhika Apte was seen wearing Rinku Sobti's latest LFW collection. It is playful with multi coloured embroidery displaying folk and fun at the same time. There is a lot of surface texturing with hand embroidery and applique of paisley silk print.

Tassels represent “a tuft of loosely hanging threads or cords knotted at one end and attached for decoration of fashion accessories, soft furnishings or clothing.” These luscious strands of threads are majorly used to accessorize things that are rich, lavish and extravagant which is ironic to the plight of the impoverished weavers whose art and skill continues to claim the appreciation it deserves.
